News of the Morning.

A manifesto, signed by the Senators and Representatives of Alabama, Georgia, Arkansas, Mississippi, North Carolina and Louisiana, has made its appearance in Washington, which states that all hope of the South obtaining relief through the agency of the Committee, or Congressional legislation, is extinguished, and that the establishment of a Southern Confederacy is the only remedy left.

President BUCHANAN has issued a proclamation, recommending the 4th day of January as a day of fasting and prayer, to be observed by the people of the United States.

It is expected that the bill for the admission of Kansas into the Union as a State will pass both Houses of Congress this week, and become a law.

Holland has made arrangements for the emancipation of all the slaves in the Dutch colonies, on the principle of English emancipation.

A heavy snow storm occurred at Richmond, Va., on Saturday. Snow fell to such a depth as to interfere with the running of the trains.

The Court of Queen's Bench, in session at Toronto, has decided in favor of giving up ANDERSON, the fugitive slave, to the U. S. authorities. The case has been appealed.

A despatch from Washington says that the sloop-of-war Brooklyn is to be held in readiness to proceed to the aid of the forts in Charleston Harbor at a moment's warning.

A Union meeting was held in New York on Saturday.

The Calhoun Block, Memphis, has been destroyed by fire; loss $100,000.

The Legislature of South Carolina has elected WM. PICKENS Governor.

More Lynchings.

A party of men just driven away from Louisiana, after having been subjected to atrocities that wild Indians would be ashamed to perpetrate, passed through this city yesterday, on their way home, to Fond du Lac, Wis. We did not see the persons to whom we refer, but we are told that their stories will, when related to the public, make every American blush. A Douglas Democrat who saw their scars, and heard their relation of the way in which their wounds were received, advised them to present themselves at the office of the Chicago Times, as a commentary on the denial in that paper that Northern men are driven away from the South. Their crime was their residence at the North—in Wisconsin, where a Personal Liberty law is on their statute book, unrepealed.—Chicago Tribune, Saturday.

Our exchanges, from the East and South, are full of stories similar to the above.—Outrages upon the persons and property of Northern men are almost of daily occurrence in the Cotton States. There is no excuse, as there is no provocation, for these intolerable wrongs; and so long as they are persisted in, it is idle to think that the North will consent to even talk about "compromise."

HOLDING FORT MOULTRIE.—The Charleston correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing of the remark in the President's Message, that the commanding officer at the Charleston forts has been instructed to act strictly on the defensive, says:

"How is it expected 'the officer in command' with less than fifty fighting men, will hold those extensive forts, when stormed by a force of, say, two thousand men, like those that covered Chepultepec, Malino del Rey, &c. Doubtless, should, unfortunately, worse come to worse, Major Anderson, 'the officer in command,' and the other officers, as well as the men, will do all that men can do, but the President should not expect them to work a miracle with the tools just now in hand. I repeat the remark that the Government and the country—if we have one—is fortunate in having so discreet and able a corps of officers at this port as are now here. They will do nothing rash, but pursue rigidly the defensive policy."

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.—On Wednesday morning the 12th inst., Mrs. MARY ANN JANE, wife of JOHN BLACKBURN, left her home in Mukwanago and started for Saylesville, about one and-a-half miles distant, to do some trading. On Thursday A. M., the 13th inst., her body was found in a marsh on section 36, in town 6, range 18, in the town of Genesee, and within one-half a mile of her home in Mukwonago.

At a Coroner's inquest held on the body, the following facts were established: Deceased left Saylesville on Wednesday evening before sundown and started in the direction of her home across the fields. The verdict of the Coroner's Jury was that the deceased came to her death by exposure and the visitation of God.

Justice of the Peace.

GENESEE, Dec. 13th, 1860.

DESPATCHES LONG DRAWN OUT.—On Friday night the telegraphic operators put Portland in connection with Charleston, S. C., and transmitted messages distinctly; subsequently Bangor and New Orleans were connected for the first time, and messages sent from Maine to Louisiana. We believe this a longer distance than was over before connected in the United States, or any telegraphic line over which intelligible despatches have been sent.

THE GOVERNOR OF GEORGIA CENSURED.—The Georgia House of Representatives have unanimously passed a vote of censure upon the Governor of that State, Hon. Joseph E. Brown. It appears that the Governor, in vetoing the Bank Relief bill, intimated that it had been passed through corrupt influences used by the banks. The Legislature requested an explanation. The Governor replied that "no charge of bribery was intended; that the language used was general, and was intended to be directed against what is usually known as lobby influence, when gentlemen leave their homes and spend money for travelling expenses, tavern bills, &c., &c., for the purpose of hanging around the General Assembly, to try to influence the minds of members so as to procure the passage of a particular bill." The reply closed with the hint that "conscious innocence" would not have appropriated to itself language in which there was no imputation of criminality made. The House did not like the answer and the following resolutions were passed—ayes 113, nays 0:

Be it Resolved, That His Excellency, Gov. Brown, has not only abused the privileges of this House, but has failed to maintain, in his official intercourse with this body, that dignity of deportment which becomes the Chief Magistrate of Georgia.

Resolved further, That this resolution be spread upon the journals of this House.—Baltimore American.

From Washington.

Special Dispatches to the Cincinnati Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.

GOOD EFFECT OF THE CONGRESSIONAL DEBATES.

The debates of the last three days in Congress cannot fail to have a decided effect in disheartening the Disunionists, and restoring confidence to the country. People have been unreasonably alarmed. That alarm is subsiding; the visionary fabric of secession is rapidly dissolving itself into the air. Its imaginary basis is gone; one by one the alleged grievances of the extreme South have been demolished and abandoned, until the only pretext left is, a want of affection between the two sections. Something more substantial than this must be pleaded in favor of divorce, even granting that the indictment can be sustained.

DISCOMFITURE OF THE DISUNIONISTS.

These discussions have been of material service in several ways. They have drawn tardy and reluctant, and hence all the more effective concessions, from the Northern Democrats and from Southern men of the border States, that the repeated charges of a want of fidelity, on the part of the Republicans to the Constitutional obligations of the North in regard to the rendition of fugitive slaves, are utterly groundless. These accusations are virtually confessed by Douglas himself, by Mr. Pugh, by Breckinridge Democrats like Fitch of Indiana and Thompson of New Jersey, to be partizan calumnies invented for merely electioneering purposes. They have declared in their places in the Senate that the entire North, Republicans and Democrats included, have been true to their Constitutional guaranties. In this respect the Senators from the border Southern States, the only States practically interested in the question, substantially concede the same thing.

WISE INACTION OF THE REPUBLICANS.

The Republicans have probably acted wisely in allowing this state of things to happen without essentially contributing towards bringing it about. They have nothing to apologize for or explain. In a dignified way, they will go straight forward in the course they have commenced, and give practical effect to Mr. Lincoln's election by trying to reform the Government and to banish useless agitation. The pretext of the negro, which Jackson wisely predicted would be used by Southern disorganizers next after the tariff, to bring about disunion and Southern Confederacy, is in a fair way to be disposed of as it should be, at least for a time.

THE SECESSION MOVEMENT.

From personal appearances, several Southern States will make a feint of seceding, but a reaction will speedily bring them back to their intelligence.

MR. LINCOLN'S CABINET—SENATOR SEWARD'S VIEWS.

Mr. Seward, I am credibly informed, has stated that he will neither seek nor decline a Cabinet position under Lincoln. He expresses the opinion, that the Cotton States will certainly secede, but in a few years will be desirous of returning to the Union. He does not speak in favor of coercion. It is not probable that he will make any speeches during the present session, though frequently urged to do so.

SENATOR WADE'S EXPECTED SPEECH.

The galleries were crowded and overflowing, a speech being anticipated from Judge Wade. He took the floor when Mr. Wigfall concluded, and will deliver one of his characteristic speeches on Monday.

POLICY OF THE REPUBLICAN SENATORS.

Other Republican Senators will follow.—Their speeches will be firm, yet not unnecessarily irritating, nor in the least menacing. They must, however, affirm the plain truth, that secession can only end in war, since it can only be carried out by making a direct attack upon the property and the troops of Government.

PEACEABLE SECESSION IMPOSSIBLE.

No Republican here entertains any idea that peaceable secession is possible. The same is substantially true of the Southern Opposition members and Border State Democrats in general.

PROSPECTS OF THE SECESSION MOVEMENT.

The opinion gains ground that the Disunion treason will never proceed so far as the overt act. Probably five or six States will pass Secession ordinances, of which no particular notice need be taken, so long as the contemplated rebellion is on paper only.

Washington Matters.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—8 P. M.

The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Herald says:

At the request of Hon. Reuben Davis, of Mississippi, a member of the Committee of States, the Southern Members of Congress assembled at his rooms last night, and adjourned at 11 o'clock, at which time the following declaration was made and signed by those present. It had already been presented to the Committee of Thirty-Three:

THE SOUTHERN MANIFESTO.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.

To our Constituents:—The argument is exhausted. All hope of relief in the Union through the agency of the Committee and Congressional legislation, or Constitutional amendments, is extinguished, and we trust the South will not be deceived by appearances or the pretense of new guarantees. The Republicans are resolute in their purpose to grant nothing that will or ought to satisfy the South. In our judgment, the honor, safety and independence of the Southern States lies in a Southern Confederacy—the inevitable result of Southern State secession—that the sole and primary aim of each slaveholding State ought to be its speedy and absolute separation from an unnatural and hostile Union.

This manifesto is signed by Pugh, Clopton, Moore, Curry, Stalworth, of Alabama; Iverson, Underwood, Gartrell, Jackson, Crawford and Jones of Georgia; Hawkins, of Florida; Hindman, of Arkansas; Brown, Barksdale, Singleton, and Reuben Davis, of Mississippi; Craig and Ruffin, of North Carolina; Benjamin and Landrum, of Louisiana.

Senators Yulee, Sebastian, Johnson, of Arkansas; Slidell, Wigfall, and Hemphill will sign it

The manifesto will be immediately communicated to the several constituencies of the gentlemen named by telegraph.

It is understood that Kansas will be admitted next week. The Democrats not designing nor desiring to interfere with the wishes of the Republicans.

The Senate Territorial Committee will bring forward a territorial organization for Pike's Peak. Mr. Grow, from the House Committee will bring forward a similar bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—3 P. M.

Rumors are in circulation that Secretary Thompson has resigned, but there is authority for saying that such is not his present intention.

Senator Benjamin, it is stated, will take an early opportunity to make a secession speech.

Certain secessionists say that France, Russia, Prussia and other European Powers will promptly recognize the independence of any seceding States.

It is said that a line of French steamers, which were intended to run from Havre to New York, will be changed from the latter place to New Orleans.

The President's proclamation, recommending to the people of the United States to observe the 4th day of January, as a day of humiliation, fasting and prayer, is officially published. He says:

"Hope seems to have deserted the minds of men, and God's arm alone can save us from the awful effects of our crimes and follies."

Emancipation in the Dutch Colonies.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.

The Times' Washington correspondent says:

"Official information has been received here that Holland has made arrangements for the emancipation of the slaves in all the Dutch colonies, on the principle of English emancipation, making compensation to the masters."

A HASTY BRIDEGROOM.—On no occasion, says the Springfield Republican, do people seem more prone to commit blunders than at a wedding. The following actually occurred at a neighboring town:

"In the midst of a crowd of witnesses, the clergyman had just completed that interesting ceremony which binds in the silver bonds of wedlock two willing hearts, and stretched forth his hands to implore the blessing of Heaven on the union. At this point the groomsman, seeing the open hands reached out, supposed it was the signal for him to surrender the wedding fee, which was burning in his pocket. Accordingly, just as the clergyman closed his eyes in prayers, he felt the pressure of two sweaty half-dollars upon his open palm. The good man hesitated a moment, appalled at the ludicrousness of his situation, but coolly deposited the money in his pocket, and proceeded with his devotion."

More about Woman.

THE MORAL HISTORY OF WOMAN. From the French of ERNEST LEGOUVE. New York: RUDD & CARLTON.—Milwaukee: STRICKLAND & CO.

The admirers of LA FEMME will hail the appearance of this work, by the same author, with delight. It has, for its object, the investigation of the actual condition of French women according to laws and manners.—In the first chapter, the author treats of birth, and shows conclusively that the birth of a girl has, from time immemorial, been looked upon as something of a disgrace.

"Here is a bed of pain—a bed bare and rude for the rich as for the poor, for the people of the North as for them of the South. A woman is in labor; near her an anxious husband, her trembling mother, the silent physician; all eyes are turned towards him; they wait; suddenly a feeble cry is heard, the first utterance of human life—a child is born. What is it? what is it? they eagerly inquire. 'It is a girl.'

For how many ages, or how many nations have these words, 'it is only a girl been words of sorrow, and even a title of shame.'" The author then cites a great number of instances to prove his assertion, and brings the truth closely home.

The next chapters are devoted to "The Wife," "The Mother," and "Woman." In drawing a parallel between man and woman in the last chapter—we find the following passage which gives a very good idea of the author's views: "Only one fact could lawfully condemn woman, their radical inferiority. Now how shall we prove this inferiority? By the study of history, perhaps. But woman, having in all times been excluded from office, we cannot judge of what they might be by what they have been:

By their psychology? When the soul has been dwarfed by servitude, how can we find its true nature, under its imposed mask?

The objections against woman, drawn even from her proved incapacity, or from her faults, fall before the single fact of her eternal subordination. It is not she whom you seek. It is not she of whom you judge.—It is a factitious being—the work of man, not of God. Philosophical and historical analysis here seem to lose all their force."

MUSICAL SOCIETY CONCERT.—The Concert of the Milwaukee Musical Society, at Albany Hall, on Friday evening, was one of the very best they have ever given, and speaks well for the ability of the new Director, Mr. ABEL. The instrumental pieces were uncommonly good, and the choruses were admirably rendered. The gems of the evening were an air for soprano, from the "Puritani," and the magnificent duett for tenor and baritone, from "Belisario." In the first, Madame JACOBI surprised and delighted the audience by her rich and powerful voice, and classic method. The piece was enthusiastically encored. The same compliment was paid to the duett, which was most enthusiastically sung by Messrs. ABEL and ROSENTHAL. The Orchestral accompaniment, under the careful lead of Professor BACH, was the best we have heard at the Society Concerts. Our music-loving public are indebted to the Society and to Mr. ABEL for a great treat. We hope that it will not be long before they gratify us with another.

NEWSPAPER CHANGES.—The People's Press and the News have become one flesh, and the happy couple appeared, for the first time, on Saturday, under the name of the "Daily People's Press and News." The proprietor is Doctor C. H. ORTON, of the Fifth Ward, a member of the Common Council. BERIAH BROWN assumes the editorial charge. Other arrangements are indicated and the public assured that no pains will be spared to make the Press and News a first-class paper.

The State Rights published at Monroe, Green County, is to be discontinued, Mr. STOUT, its editor, being about to establish a paper at Steven's Point.

THE CENTRIFUGAL GUN.—The New York Express has the following item about the gun invented by Mr. DICKINSON, brother of Col. H. E. DICKINSON, of the "Albany," which was exhibited in this city and noticed in the SENTINEL several months ago:

"The Centrifugal Gun was exhibited in Boston last week. It is claimed by the inventor, Mr. Dickinson, that this gun will throw 500 balls per minute, at a rifle range, without powder or cap, simply by turning a crank like a coffee mill. The balls are fed into a funnel with a shovel, from which the gun feeds itself. It throws its shot singly, but continuously, at a rate equal to the ceaseless fire of 10,000 men."

OPENING BALL AT BIRCHARD'S NEW HALL.—The opening of the splendid Hall in Birchard's New Block on Spring Street, will take place on Christmas. The Turners, as will be seen by the advertisment, are to give a grand ball there; for which the most extensive preparations are being made. A large christmas tree will occupy the centre of the hall. It will be loaded with Christmas Gifts which are to be distributed to the buyers of tickets on the evening of the ball

CHEAP BILLIARDS—ALBANY HALL.—The proprietor of the elegant Billiard Hall in the Albany, Col. H. E. DICKINSON, desires us to inform his friends and the public that the price for a game of billiards, in his establishment, will be only five cents, day or night, until further notice. Col. DICKINSON'S tables are first rate and everything about his rooms is all that could be asked. If his customers quarrel with the price, he will give them something to-boot.

PERSONAL.—ALANSON HOLLY, late of the Kilbourn City Mirror called upon us Saturday. He starts for Western New York to-morrow. Mr. HOLLY will make his future residence either at Lockport or Wausau, in that State.

A Milwaukeean in Havana.

LEVI MORSE, of the firm of MORSE BROS., tobacconists, in this city, writes a letter from Havana, where he is now spending his time in recuperating his health and buying cigars. We are kindly permitted to make the following extract from his correspondence:

HAVANA, November 18

DEAR BROTHER:—We are having the very best of time here among the Spaniards. The women are the handsomest in all creation; a little dark, but all the richer looking; and they have such a queenly laziness about them that a fellow can't look at them long without dozing. I don't go out much at night since I met with an adventure, which was like this: I was walking along the Grand Plaza about nine o'clock at night, looking at the senoritas moving along like folks in a dream, and sleeping in their volantes, when a Habanero rushed up to me, his moustache standing out straight and his eyes burning. He didn't say "nothing," but whipping out his poignard—which is another name for bowie—made a dig at me, and I started. I fancy I ran slightly, and hav'nt been out at night since.

The houses are all on the ground floor here, as people are too lazy to go up stairs. They live on garlic and oil. Everything smells of it—smell of this letter. The hotel where I stop is called the "La Noblesa Vascagonda." They have hot garlic for breakfast, and cold garlic for supper, and stewed garlic for dinner. Everybody gets up at six in the morning, not because they get enough sleep, but so that they can get through with their business in time for a snooze in the afternoon; their snooze they call a siesta, and would as soon go without their garlic as their siesta. When the regular hour comes for going to sleep everybody lies down. The drivers of the volantes get down and run for the shade of the nearest tree; the Senor stops his business and "keels over," and the Senoritas close their eyes together. And then nothing but the smell of garlic wakes 'em up. I have bought a case of cigars, which they call here the Los Californianos, and a good supply of cigaritas, for the Wisconsin Senoritas. My beard has grown so long that I have to put it in my pocket to keep it out of the way. It's all owing to the sweet oil and garlic. Yours,

LEVI MORSE.

DE VILLIERS' FENCING EXHIBITION.—M. DE VILLIERS gave an exhibition on Saturday evening, at the Academy of Music, of his pupils' and his own fencing with broadsword and foils.

A letter from the "unknown officer" was read, which stated that he was taken suddenly ill and was unable to meet M. DE VILLIERS. The little Frenchmen displayed wonderful perfection with the foils, and we suspect he has not his match in these parts.

MUNICIPAL COURT, DEC. 15TH.—Geo. Smith, drunk and disorderly, fined $5 and costs. Paid.

Geo. McMann, drunk and disordely, fined $1 and costs, or 7 days in jail. Execution issued.

Frank Burnett, charged with larceny.—Ordered to recognize in the sum of $300 for his appearance at the next January term of Court, or in default be committed. Committed.

William Yetter, charged with forgery of promissory note. Examination in progress as we make up our report.

THE SKATING CLUB.—There was a large attendance of the Skating Club on the river Saturday afternoon. Some twelve, or fifteen ladies graced the occasion by their presence and enjoyed the exercise. The weather was superb; the ice in fair condition and the lady skaters showed great proficiency.—BROCKWAY, who delights in accommodating the public, will run an Omnibus to the skating ground, every half-hour, on the regular afternoons—Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

PHOENIX FIRE INSURANCE.—We are in receipt of a card of exquisite design and execution, designed as a counting house almanac, issued by the old and popular Phoenix Insurance Co. of Hartford. The card is one of the most tasty we ever saw. The cash capital of this company is $400,000. Cash assets over $500,000. O. ALEXANDER is the agent in this city. A. W. HATCH, Solicitor.

BACK PAY OF THE POLICEMEN.—The subject of the pay of the policemen came up in the Board of Councillors on Friday evening. The finance committee having reported in favor of the allowance. It was, however, not agreeable to the board to concur with the committee and the resolution was lost for want of a constitutional vote.

I. O. OF G. T.—Dr. CASTLEMAN will deliver an address before Banner Temple this evening at Good Templar's Hall, in Bowman's Block.

THE LARGEST CLOTHING HOUSE IN THE WEST.—It has become a universal custom with all who desire a fashionable, superior and becoming outfit, to make their selections from the Mammoth House of SPROULE & BENNETT, No. 150 East Water street. This establishment is fast gaining a reputation of keeping none but first class goods—ready-made clothing, as well as every variety of gents' furnishing goods. Her anger, rage, and vexation; the rapid succession of bitter and passionate feelings that whirled through her mind, as she surveyed, first, the biscuit, then the pastry, &c., which was spread before the gaze of the fastidious guests! How she vowed that Saleratus had been her ruin; that but for the eccentric and unaccountable peculiarities of this preparation, she should at that moment have astonished the assembled company with cream cakes and delicious party. If she had only used D. B. De Land & Co.'s Saleratus, which is perfectly pure and reliable, she would have been spared all this mortification. She procured De Land's Saleratus the very next day, of her grocer, and has had no such trouble since! THE

Life of Andrew Jackson

BY JAMES PARTON,

Author of "Life of Aaron Burr," etc.

Three Volumes, 636 to 734 pages each, with Steel Portraits.

CROWN OCTAVO EDITION.—Cloth Binding, $5,00; Sheep, $6,75; Half-Calf, $9,00; Full Calf, $12.

SUBSCRIBERS' EDITION, Royal Octavo (sold by Subscription only)—Cloth, $7,50; Sheep, $9; Half Calf $13; Full Calf, $15.

MR. PARTON HAS BEEN SEVERAL years engaged in the preparation of this work, and has bestowed upon it the most careful research and investigation. The first volume of the Subscribers' Edition was issued a year since: the second was published last spring, and the third and last is now completed. Of the first and second volumes the press have spoken in the warmest commendations:

"The life of Andrew Jackson was indeed an eventful one, and the events that were crowded into his career, as a pioneer, a general, and a statesman, are among the most important in the history of our country."—Taunton Gazette. "Almost all that relates to him is peculiar, extraordinary, and interesting."—Atlantic Times. "Those who have been most familiar with the career of Jackson, will be surprised at the mass of new matter the author has collected."—Boston Journal. "It exhausts the subject."—New York Day Book. "It is an honest book throughout."—Nashville Union. "It is equally free from the spirit of detraction, on the one hand, and of unmixed glorification, on the other. Failings and virtues are alike faithfully delineated."—Western Christian Advocate. "One of the most readable of books. Every page is alive. It is as romantic as a mediaeval romance, and yet has the advantage of being true."—Home Journal. "Possesses a degree of interest which can scarcely be overstated."—New York World. "A fresher, livelier account was never written of any hero, by any author."—Boston Advertiser. "No work of fiction could be better fitted to hold the attention and bear the mind along with a sustained enthusiasm, than this account of the real life of one of our own countrymen."—Boston Recorder. "From first to last, the work is intensely interesting."—Philadelphia Item. "Perfectly fascinating."—New York Day Book. "The narrative is flowing and charming. We confess having read the whole (one volume) in two prolonged sittings."—Harper's Weekly. "The most difficult task was where and how to part company with it."—New York Crayon. "Of intense and permanent interest."—New York Observer. "The most interesting political and personal history ever written of any public man in this country."—Pennsylvanian. "His style is fairly eloquent with vividness and fluency. His account of the defense of New Orleans from its inception to its climax, interests more deeply than a tale of chivalry, or an oriental romance."—Atlantic Times. "One of the most interesting and instructive books we have ever read."—Russell's Magazine, (Charleston, S. C.) "A Life indeed, and before which the conventional and common-place biographies of modern times sink into stupidity and insignificance."—New York Journal of Commerce.

For the first time a genuine biography of Gen. Schuyler is written. The character and services of this efficient laborer for our country, as well as the established reputation of Mr. Lossing as a writer on kindred topics, give to the book no ordinary interest and value. CITY LAND OFFICE.

LOOK AHEAD. BE PREPARED FOR the flood of emigration which will pour in upon us. Look at the South, all on fire. Thousands of thousands will leave and go where they can have free air and free speech, and lands which they can call their own. Now is the time to invest your surplus money in farming lands. Thousands upon thousands of farmers, and others, who have been struggling for years to make money, are now able to invest. The abundant crops have done a wonderful work, and Providence is smiling upon this great State of ours. Our growth and development in wealth and property will be great beyond precedent. What is to be done with all the money, with the accumulating millions now flowing into the pockets of the people? Invest your money in good farming land; nothing is more safe; the land in Wisconsin will all be wanted. The great noisy South will cause thousands of thousands to come and purchase our lands. Wisconsin is the great western State of this, our Union, and thousands are looking toward us. Invest your money in lands that can be purchased at low prices.

I have seven thousand five hundred acres of farming lands in the Northern and Western parts of our State, which I am instructed to sell at reduced prices. The lands principally are in good neighborhoods, and within short distance of railroads. I have also improved farms to sell, and I also am ready to act as agent for any who have lands and farms for sale; send in your list, with a full description of your property, improvements, price, terms, &c., and I will pay that attention it requires.

A NEW

Hoop and Rattan Machine!!

THE SUBSCRIBER HAS SUCCEEDED in producing Machines for the purpose of splitting and dressing Hoops. The principles developed in the Machines are admired by mechanics for simplicity, and durability, as well as the light power required to operate them, in consequence of the oscillating or vibrating motion of the splitting Knife applied to opening the pole, with a perfect and simple arrangement for entering it, and requiring no alteration in splitting the smallest keg to large hogshead hoops, and is equally well adapted to splitting Rattans, Osiers, Willows and Basket Stuff. The machines have received the highest premiums at the late Fairs at Boston and Baltimore.

Parties wanting Machines we would refer to Mr. P. A. BASSET, of Baraboo, Wis., who has a sett in operation.

CITY LAND OFFICE.

SIX THOUSAND ACRES OF DEEDED Farming Land in the State of Wisconsin—Lands selected and entered several years ago.

I am instructed by the owner to sell said lands at any price, and on such terms that any one, who has any spark of "Go Ahead," can secure for himself and family a home. Who should feel any more independent than the farmer. Of all occupations to create love and love for our country, agriculture is the best. It enables those who pursue it to live a fuller and freer independent life. It is less exposed to temptation. If the multitudes who are hard run to get bread would leave this and other pent up cities and occupy and improve the thousands of acres of fine land in our country, yet uncultivated, it would greatly enhance individual happiness and public good. Try it, ye starved ones.—If you are disappointed, then I am no prophet.—Call at my Land Office, and inquire about the lands I have for sale. CALEB WALL,

THE SENTINEL.

DAILY, TRI-WEEKLY & WEEKLY

RUFUS KING, EDITOR.

MONDAY MORNING, DEC. 17, 1860.

The Daily Sentinel for 1861.

Important Improvements Contemplated.

On the first of January THE DAILY SENTINEL will commence a new volume under the most favorable auspices. The liberal support extended to us during the past year by our friends throughout this and the adjoining States, warrants us in our present determination to make THE SENTINEL for 1861 still more worthy of the partiality that has been shown it. The peculiar complication of National matters; the interest felt in the movements of foreign countries, and the approaching inaugural of a Republican President, all render the public anxious to receive the latest intelligence. Never before has there been such a demand for newspapers as at present.

THE SENTINEL for 1861, will be presented to the Public with several improvements. The various departments of news will be enlarged, and the addition of fresh and able talent on the editorial and corresponding staff, will make THE SENTINEL one of the most desirable papers in the northwest.

The facilities for obtaining the earliest news were never greater than are at present possessed by this office, and the patrons of this paper will have new inducements placed before them to continue their support.

We shall present the first number of the new volume to our readers with the flattering assurance that our efforts to keep the sheet up with times in every respect, will be rewarded by a still greater increase of patronage. We have made arrangements with prominent gentlemen, both in this country and abroad, to furnish us with regular correspondence. We have also several typographical improvements in view, which will be noticed at the proper time. In fact, no effort will be spared to render THE SENTINEL entirely unsurpassed as a Political and Commercial Newspaper, and a consistent advocate of Republican Principles, by any paper published in the North-west.

Democracy and Disunion.

After the Electors chosen by Virginia had cast the vote of that State for BELL and EVERETT, a public dinner was given to them by their political friends in Richmond. Among the speeches made on the occasion was one by Mr. JOHNSON, of Richmond, who said the following among other things:

> I have heard it said by some of the Electoral College that the Democratic party were dead, and I hope it may be so; but I fear not, for I claim to be able to preach as eloquent a funeral sermon over the deathbed of Democracy as any man in the United States. But I fear it is neither dead nor sleeping. I never saw a Disunionist who was not a Democrat.
> I believe this Union is in serious danger, and if it is to be destroyed it will be destroyed by Democrats; and the dead are incapable of destruction. And if this Union is destroyed, it will be destroyed by defeated, yet by living Democrats. Therefore, I fear, Democracy is not dead. It has been beaten in this State in the last few days by 17,000 majority, because I do not count the Douglas men upon the side of Democracy. I count but two parties now. I disregard all past associations. I look upon it as a Union or Disunion party, and I say from whatever section or denomination you come, if you are a Union man I will shake hands with you, and die with you. And I hope that will be the prevailing sentiment with the people of Virginia. How can we stand upon any other issue?

Thus it seems that at the South, as at the North, the Disunionists are mainly, if not altogether Democrats. Certainly we know of no Republican, South or North, who gives countenance or encouragement to the Disunion movement. They are all, to a man, in favor of the Union as it is and the Constitution as it is; opposed, indeed, to the extension of slavery beyond its present limits, but equally opposed to any interference with it, where it exists, by either Federal, or State power.

Rats Quitting a Sinking Ship.

Secretary COBB, having exhausted the cash, and damaged the credit of the country and being at his wits' end how to repair either mischief, has resigned is office. Secretary CASS, having effectually helped Mr. BUCHANAN to run the machine of State into the ruts where it is now lumbering, has notified the President that he, too, intends taking leave of the Cabinet. It is not unlikely that others of the President's constitutional advisors will follow the example of Messrs. CASS and COBB. Nor would it much surprise us if the "Old Public Functionary" himself should abandon the White House and flee to Wheatland before his term of office expires. This cowardly desertion of their posts and duty, in the hour of the Republic's most imminent peril, is a fitting termination to the inglorious career of the present Administration. The country is well rid of them. May we never look upon their like again.

THE YANKEES NOT EASILY FRIGHTENED.—The New Englanders are rather pluming themselves on the superior ability of their Stocks to resist Panic. While the New York Bank Stocks are nearly all sold below par, only two out of twelve Boston Banks, whose stocks are in market, sell less than 100. While most of the Railway shares in Wall street are sold at enormous depreciation, those of six New England Railways are sold at par in Boston. New York Central sells at 70 in New York, while the Western Railroad brings 112 at Boston—a difference of 42 per cent. United States five per cent. Stocks have been selling in New York at 90, while Boston city five per cent. Stocks have been selling at 99 1-2. The Bonds of cities in Maine and Massachusetts bring 100, while those of the States of Missouri and Tennessee are selling at 65 or less. A Massachusetts paper before us says the difference is not attributed to the greater value of Stocks, but to the greater liability of the New Yorkers to get scared. It was just so in 1857.

MR. SEWARD.—The Evening Post's Washington correspondent writes: Mr. Seward appears to enjoy a new lease of life since the close of the political campaign. He is now about fifty-nine years of age, and though "the frosts that never melt" have whitened his head, his confidence in the stability of the Union has all the cheerfulness and freshness of youth. In regard to the controversies respecting the Presidential nomination at Chicago, he says, "that is past." As for questions of the composition of the Cabinet and appointments, he says, "that is future." So that, on the whole, there are few men in public life whose political cares trouble them less than the Senator from New York.

NEW KIND OF EXPRESS FREIGHT.—The Norfolk (Va.) Day Book states that an individual named BOULEWARE passed through Raleigh, N. C., on Wednesday last, in charge of the Express Company, close shaved, and bearing on his back the marks of a hundred and fifty stripes, well laid on, and consigned to HORACE GREELEY, New York. The consigners are citizens of Winnsborough, S. C., and his punishment arises from his having uttered incendiary language—probably saying that he voted for LINCOLN and HAMLIN.

SPORTS OF THE CHASE IN TEXAS.—We copy the following chaste and elegant advertisement from the Texas Pioneer, a paper published in Springfield, Lewiston County, Texas:

NEGRO DOGS.

Charles H. Stillwell offers his services to the public to catch runaway negroes—and abolitionists. The latter he proposes to catch, free of charge, for food for his dogs. He can always be found at his residence, two miles north of Butler, Freestone Co., with fast horses and a fresh pack—ready and "spiling" for a chase.

TEXAS—OFFICIAL.—The vote of Texas is, for the BRECKINRIDGE ticket, 47,547; for the BELL-DOUGLAS ticket 15,438.—BRECKINRIDGE'S majority, 32,109.

FUR TRADE OF ST. LOUIS.—During the past year there has been received at St. Louis, 80,000 Buffalo robes. Of these, 66,600 were received from the upper Missouri; 11,500 from the Platte Region, and 2,500 from the Osage Region. Average value per robe $3 50, in round numbers $360,000. The robes from Upper Missouri are the products of the Blackfeet Indians, being on the headwaters of the Missouri river, some three thousand miles from the mouth of that stream. These hides are all tanned by the women while the men hunt. Immense numbers of Buffalo are killed for meat only, and in summer and other seasons, when the skin is comparatively bare of wool or hair, and consequently worthless. The robes taken in winter are best. Probably not over a tenth of those slaughtered furnish us robes—so that the whole number of Buffalo killed during the season will reach 800,000.

THE EFFECT OF BULLYING.—The bullying tone of the Southern extremists is having its effect upon Northern men of all parties. The Boston Courier, a zealous "Fusion" and Bell-Everett Organ, gives the following sensible remarks of one of its correspondents:

"For the political conduct of the Yanceys, Keitts, Iversons, and Browns of the South, we have nothing but defiance. We will not turn on our heel to conciliate them, or to change their purpose of treason and anarchy. We wish the land was rid of them forever. As for the election, on one point we are agreed; that the sensible men of the South are not to be ruled by the raving demagogues, who threaten periodically to shatter the glorious structure bequeathed by our sires. What is to become of our boasted liberty if men are to be brow-beaten at the polls with Southern menaces? Perhaps it would be a wholesome punishment to the querulous little State of South Carolina—the only really troublesome member of the Confederacy, to thrust her out, nolens volens, beyond the pale of the sympathies and regards of the United States of America."

INTERVIEW WITH MR. AND MRS. LINCOLN.—Rev. T. L. CUYLER writes to the Evangelist concerning an interview with the President elect and his wife at Chicago. He says:

"After seeing how freely the people gathered at Mr. Lincoln's parlor door, and how familiarly they knocked thereat, I took the liberty of sending in my card, and was invited very promptly to his apartments. As soon as I entered the 'man with the patriarch's name' stood before me—not quite so tall as the Kentucky giant, and not quite so thin as Barnum's live skeleton—but certainly quite tall and lank enough for gracefulness. He does not look like the melancholy prints in the shop windows. Homely as he is, (that is the very word, homely—a plain, homespun, home-loving, unpretending character) his face is not unattractive. His eye is good—his hair glossy—his voice has a clean-cut distinctness, that must make him a pleasant public speaker. His manner is exceedingly genial. He grasped my hand warmly—put me at ease by a cordial recognition, and led me at once to the other side of the room, where sat a refined and not unhandsome lady, whom I soon found was 'the little woman down the street' to whom he first made known the news of his nomination last Spring. 'Here, my dear, is ——,' was his homely introduction; and I was domesticated at once. She will do the honors of the White House, I doubt not, gracefully. They seemed a whole-souled, unpretending couple; chatted cordially about churches, pastors, &c., &c., and did not betray the slightest sense of having lost their balance by sudden promotion. Of Mr. Lincoln, the politician, I say nothing; but Lincoln, the man, I was delighted with."

THE SENTIMENT AT WASHINGTON.—The N. Y. Times of Tuesday publishes the following letter, which may be accepted as a "sign of the times:"

Extract from a Private Letter, dated

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 9, 1860.

The excitement here is merging into sullenness; and the conviction grows stronger that the experiment of secession is sure to be tried. The evidences of public sentiment received here from various sources seem to indicate that the secessionists would be satisfied with nothing less than continued control of the Government by operation of new amendments to the Constitution,—and that even those classes in the North who are suffering most by the pending paralysis in trade and finance, are nearly unanimous in the determination never to assent to the extension of Slavery another inch—or to any new guarantees for its protection.

Nevertheless the prevailing tone here is moderate—and the Republicans certainly are saying or doing nothing calculated to fan the flames.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE SENATE.—The following dialogue occurred in the Senate on Monday last:

Mr. Hale—It seems the newspapers greatly misrepresent what I say. He says I said I wanted to wait on Mr. Buchanan, and ask him to send an army down to coerce South Carolina.

Mr. Pugh—I said I saw it so stated.

Mr. Hale—I never said so. I never had an idea of Mr. Buchanan sending an army down to South Carolina. I believe instead of sending an army to South Carolina, he would get on his knees before the people of that State and beg them for God's sake not to force him to do so before the 4th of March. [Laughter.] This is the condition I believe that Mr. Buchanan occupies.

Senator HALE is "sound." He appreciates Mr. BUCHANAN exactly.

FOR STRONG MEN.—Dr. G. B. WINSHIP, the strong man, is lecturing at New Haven, Conn. He ordered, for the evening of the 13th inst., "one strong, tight, handsome, flat-hooped barrel of flour; ten kegs of nails—each of the kegs of the largest size—weight, 106 pounds; four scantling, 4x5, eight feet long; eight planks, two inches thick, six feet long, six and twelve inches wide, two tresels or horses, six and a half feet high and seven feet long to bear ten or twelve hundred pounds." Lecturers on "muscular philosophy" will please take note of the apparatus required for successful prosecution of the theme.

LOUIS NAPOLEON AND THE SLAVE TRADE.—LOUIS NAPOLEON has complimented Capt. MAFFIT, of our Navy, in an autograph letter, upon his efficiency in breaking up the slave trade, by way of encouraging the New Southern Confederacy to be erected upon the idea of its being re-opened.

ARKANSAS—OFFICIAL.—The official vote of Arkansas is as follows: BRECKINRIDGE, 28,732; BELL, 20,094; DOUGLAS, 5,227.—BRECKINRIDGE over BELL, 8,638; BRECKINRIDGE over all, 3,411.

THE PRESIDENT'S ORGAN ON THE CRISIS.—The Washington Constitution has made the astounding discovery that, in all their suggestions for conciliation and compromise, the Republicans manifest a "dogged determination to keep the North in possession of Lincoln." That innocent, high-toned advocate of harmony evidently thinks it very unreasonable on the part of the Republicans, that they do not forthwith force Mr. Lincoln to resign and permit the South to elect a President more to their liking. Or in default of this, they cannot refuse to permit the South to amend the Constitution so as to suit themselves, and render it impossible for the coming administration to move a step or lift a finger without their consent. "If the North insists upon being master,"—says the Constitution,—that is, if the North insists upon installing in power the President who has just been elected,—"it must be content to limit its authority to its own people, its own affairs, its own territory."

This is the style of compromise which the Executive organ at the Capital considers adapted to the emergency. It is by such gentle admonitions as these that it expects to reconcile the country to its schemes of conciliation. Its grand panacea for the troubles of the time is to reverse the verdict of the people at the last election.

The simple truth is, the Constitution wishes for no peace which shall leave the Republicans the power just placed in their hands. It prefers secession, disunion, anarchy,—anything rather than the installment of a Republican Administration over the Government of the United States. Its steady aim is to encourage the Disunionists,—to feed their hatred of the North,—to impose upon them the belief that they have no security for their rights within the Union, and that self-protection requires them to secede. It is utterly incapable of anything but the most bitter partizan views of this or any subject, its steady aim now is, not to save the Union, but to defeat and destroy the Republican party.—N. Y. Times.

☞ WHY is an andiron like a yard-stick?—Because it has three feet.

On What they Feed.

To show upon what stuff the South Carolina disunionists are wont to feed, and what effect it has upon them, we copy the following speech of EX GOV. ADAMS, made at Columbia, in response to a serenade, on the night of Dec. 7th:

"Ex-Gov. Adams said that the Abolitionists were our best friends. Thank God for what they have already done; and for the inestimable blessings they were about to confer, they are entitled to our warmest gratitude. [Laughter.] Their assaults have been unceasing, but all for our good. If, to-morrow morning, they repealed every Anti-Slavery law, and said they would never whisper the word "negro" again, he would still cut loose his connection with them. [Laughter.]

The climate, the soil, and the habits of the people rendered it unsafe for Texas and Maine to be under the same Government.—The idea of our forefathers, that representation was the bulwark of protection for the Union, had proved a fallacy, if 90 Southern men, were they all Calhouns in intellect, would not weigh against 140 of the Lovejoys and Hickmans. Our ancestors made a sad blunder when they went into partnership with the Pilgrim Fathers, who came across the ocean in search of toleration, but became the most relentless persecutors in the world. They threw the tea overboard, but they did it like thieves, wearing the guise of Indians, and knowing that no indictment would lay against them. [Laughter.] It was true, the Revolutionary War commenced then, but the biggest part of the Revolutionary War was fought at the South, after Washington took charge of the army. Their courage, like Bob Acre's, oozed out at their fingers' ends. [Laughter.]

He would not go into the history of tariff, and show how it swindled the South; but the pension system was adopted 30 or 40 years after the Revolution, when it was supposed most of the old soldiers were dead, and New England immediately turned out more soldier claimants than were enrolled in the whole Revolutionary army. [Laughter.] If secession brought peace, he hoped we would enjoy its introduction; but if it brought war, we were the most unfortunate people on earth, for we had not bread and meat enough to feed the people who would would come here to help us fight our battles. [Laughter and applause.] He did not believe war would come of it; and, if they wanted our blood, invite them to the banquet. Throw away the scabbard, and let them understand we will neither give nor ask quarter. [Applause.]

They might overrun the country, but if we were animated by the spirit of our fathers, the swamps which protected Marion were here yet, and the soil grows as good potatoes now as then. [Applause.] He did not have much confidence in Virginia, because she refused to treat with the Commissioner of South Carolina. It was just as hard to turn a Virginian as a Louisianian sugar planter. If she would secede, then he would listen to her. In conclusion, he said that on the 17th, 18th or 19th, he did not know which, but as soon as the ordinance could be drawn, he would vote to secede, and stay in secession till doomsday." [Loud applause.]

Fraternity Lecture.

Mr. Carl Schurz of Wisconsin addressed a large audience at Tremont Temple in the Fraternity course, last evening, taking for his subject the topic of "Free Speech," suggested by recent events in that building. He said that his lecture had been written within two days, and was delivered instead of that on "American Civilization," previously announced, by permission of the committee. He argued that free speech was a long established institution in this country, and the people had become so habituated to a ready expression of their opinions, that it was a sort of second nature to them. Of all the people on earth, they were the least likely to be carried away by mere eloquence. The heart might be touched, the sympathies moved, while the mind carried on its operations quite unaffected by outward influences.

This state of things is noticed in the lowliest conditions of life in America, where every man is accustomed to form his own opinion on all matters of public interest. Daniel Webster's massive eloquence thrilled the hearts of his countrymen as no other orator's could, but he made a speech one 7th of March that killed him; a speech that was in opposition to the conscience of New England, and from that hour he was a dead man, politically speaking. So it was with Douglas in the last campaign, and malicious people said if he had made fewer speeches, he would have received more votes. No one supposes in case the friends of John Brown, on that Monday, had advocated an immediate foray upon the South for the purpose of releasing the slaves, that any man would have been found shouldering his musket and starting upon such an expedition, and yet these men had a right to discuss such topics without interruption, should they choose so to do.

The mob of respectable gentlemen which broke up the meeting did it to conciliate their Southern customers. Why not rather get up a counteracting meeting? Why not call a meeting at Faneuil Hall? Have they not patriots on their side whose voices will put down those of Fred Douglas and Wendell Phillips. (A voice—"No." Great laughter and applause.) You will observe, I put the question, and it is answered. Mr. Everett is certainly desirous of making another speech. He will be delighted to review once more the horrors of negro insurrection, to invoke the spirits of Washington, Jefferson and Madison, who, he generously forgets, were thoroughly anti-slavery.

The lecturer knew about the talk at the great Union-saving meeting at Faneuil Hall, for he was present. There was patriotism rather liberal from Lincoln, patriotism rather whining from Everett, and patriotism rather vindictive from Cushing; and how did the Southern members of Congress take this toadying at Boston? Why, they pitched into Lincoln because he made an anti slavery speech, into Everett because he didn't make an anti slavery speech, and into Cushing because of approved of Lincoln's anti-slavery speech. It is a little singular that the Tremont Temple mob did not tar and feather James Redpath, hang Wendell Phillips, and burn Fred Douglas alive—that would have pleased the South immensely.

Mr. Schurz said in his closing remarks, that he thought the cause of free speech would soon right itself in this country; his fear was of the effect the story might have upon the millions of souls in the Old World, who consider the success or failure of our Republic as settling the question of the possibility of self-government among men. He was very loudly applauded throughout.—Boston Courier.

A STRANGE STORY.—It was rumored in this city yesterday that Caleb C. Woodbury, who we all supposed was dead, was seen in Chicago not long since.

It will be remembered that he was Post master at White Pigeon, in this State, was arrested for robbing the mail, examined by U. S. Commissioner Wilkins, and held to bail in $4,000, or in default to be imprisoned in the jail of St. Joseph county. Also, that he was taken home by U. S. Deputy Marshal Moore, on the 18th of August last, to procure bail, if possible, and that while in his own house he retired to his chamber to change his clothes and take a short nap, and that not making his appearance in due time, the chamber door was burst open and he was found lying dead in his bed. The fact that he had bought strychnine, and the presence of some of it in the room, led naturally, to the belief that he committed suicide by its use. There the matter ended, and Deputy Marshal Moore came home.

Now it is stated, that within a few weeks, Woodbury was seen and spoken to by an old acquaintance in Chicago, or near there, and that the story having reached White Pigeon, his supposed grave was opened, and the coffin found to contain only a stick of wood.

Such is the statement of a man from that section, and we understand the U. S. authorities here will investigate the matter immediately.—Detroit Daily Advertiser.

MR. DALLAS AT WINDSOR CASTLE.—Among the invitations at Windsor Castle, we find the name of Mr. Dallas, the United States Minister. This mark of attention on the part of Her Majesty, following so closely upon the return of the Prince of Wales from America, is regarded as a graceful acknowledgment, on the part of our Sovereign of the cordial reception given to the Heir Apparent, by all classes in the United States, from President Buchanan down to the mobs of the large towns, the capital of Virginia alone excepted.

The American Minister and Mrs. Dallas left the Castle on the 10th.—Manchester Guardian.

Another Cure.

WAUMADEE, Minn., April 15, 1857.

MESSRS. B. PAGE, Jr. & CO.—GENTLEMEN:—During the past seven years I have suffered from all the ills incident to a weakness of the digestive organs. At times—being seized with an extreme loathing of food—I have not tasted nourishment for days; and again, when an appetite partially returned, the stomach was unable to retain what was eaten. At the suggestion of a friend, who had received much benefit, in a similar case from your Holland Bitters, I procured a bottle, and before I had taken half of it, experienced much relief; and now, after having continued its use for a short time, enjoy excellent health.

Yours, &c., J. MASTER.

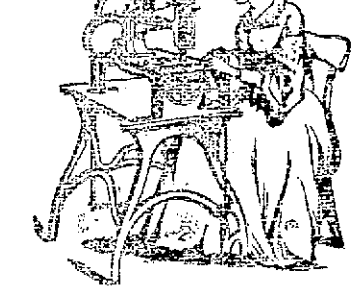
Sewing Machines.

THE

SINGER SEWING MACHINES!



The marked and ever extending popularity of Singer's Sewing Machines!

BOTH IN AMERICA AND EUROPE, is such as best to establish their superiority over all others in the market. Sewing Machines—so called—may be bought, it is true, for a smaller amount of dollars, but it is mistaken economy to invest anything in a worthless or unreliable article, and those who will do so must abide the consequences.

SINGER'S NEW FAMILY MACHINES.

In order to place THE BEST FAMILY MACHINES IN THE WORLD within the reach of all we have reduced our LETTER A, OR TRANSVERSE SHUTTLE MACHINES, beautifully ornamented, to $50.

SINGER'S NO. 1 AND 2 STANDARD SHUTTLE MACHINES.

Both of very general application and capacity, and popular both in the family and the manufactory. Prices reduced, respectively from $125 and $150 to $90 and $100.

SINGER'S NO. 3 STANDARD SHUTTLE MACHINE,

For carriage makers and heavy leather work. Price complete, $125. Also, to complete the list an

ENTIRELY NEW ARTICLE,

Unequalled for manufacturing purposes: NOISELESS, RAPID, and capable of every kind of work! Price, (including iron stand and drawers,) $110—cheaper at that in view of its value than the machines of any other maker as a gift.

All of Singer's Machines make the interlocked stitch with two threads which is the best stitch known. Every person desiring to procure full and reliable information about Sewing Machines, their sizes, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing can obtain it by sending for a copy of I. M. Singer & Co's Gazette, which is a beautiful pictorial paper entirely devoted to the subject. It will be supplied gratis.

☞ Transportation will be added to the above prices, in all cases.

American Watches, MADE BY THE
AMERICAN WATCH COMPANY, AT WALTHAM, MASS.

Attention is invited to the following statement and the accompanying letters of recommendation and testimonials, in favor of these celebrated Watches.

A gold medal was awarded the Company by the American Institute at New York in 1857.

The Company also received the first premium—a gold medal from the Franklin Institute, Philadelphia, in 1858.

These Watches have now been in market for nearly ten years, during which time they have been tested as to accuracy, durability, and reliability in every conceivable manner, and have proved themselves to be the most satisfactory time-pieces ever offered to the public.

This result has been brought about by a strict application of mechanical science to the construction of the Watch from its very inception, rendering it when finished, mathematically correct in all its proportions, and necessarily as perfect a timekeeper as it is possible to make.

The Company have tested their Watches in many instances, by actual daily noting, and the result of this test has been that they have exhibited a rate equal in regularity to the best marine chronometer.

From the Prairie Farmer, Oct. 1859.

AMERICAN WATCHES.—Nearly a year ago, we received from Messrs. Robbins & Appleton, General Agents of the American Watch Company, and paid for a good looking watch, "warranted," with the request that after thorough trial we should say what we thought of it, editorially. It has been our constant companion nearly a year. We have had no fault to find with the way it has ticked the time. We do not want a better timepiece than this has proved to be thus far. Once regulated (and we regulated it ourself) it has scarcely varied a half minute a month from "transit time." Added to its quality as a good time keeper, it is honestly and substantially made. Were we going to purchase, we should prefer an American watch.

Office of the Tribune,
New York, Oct 27, 1859.

American Watch Company, Waltham,

Gentlemen,—Having carried one of your watches for the last eight years, I can say confidently that they will do, and may be bought with assurance that they will keep time. I believe the watch unsurpassed.

HORACE GREELEY.

New York, Aug. 2, 1860.

Gentlemen—In reply to yours of 25th ulto, we take pleasure in stating that the American watch now in use upon our railroad, has varied only six seconds, in a little over six months.

Respectfully,
S. W. & W. A. TORREY,
Contractors on the Rar. and Del. Bay R. R.

To Messrs. Robbins & Appleton.

Boston, Sept. 27, 1859.

Mr. R. E. Robbins, Treasurer Amer. Watch Co.:

Dear Sir—It gives me great pleasure to comply with your request for a report of the performance of the American Watch I purchased of you Dec. 2, 1858. It was set on that day, and the variation from true time to the 29th of February, 1859, when I let it run down, was ten seconds fast. From that time to the present, it has run with nearly perfect steadiness, having during the eight months remained at from seven to nine seconds fast, and this with uncommonly rough usage. I can commend your manufacture in the highest terms.

Yours truly
JAMES H. CLAPP,
Firm of Clapp, Fuller & Brown, Bankers, Boston.

The following named gentlemen may be referred to in relation to these Watches:

Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, Me.;
N. P. Willis, New York;
Horace Greeley;
Cyrus W. Field, New York;
Paul Morphy, New Orleans;
Dr. J. Marion Sims;

Norman Wiard, Wis;
Prof. Bartlett, West Pt;
Col. W. J Hardee, U.S.A;

CAUTION.—As our Watch is now extensively counterfeited by foreign manufacturers, we have to inform the public that no watch is of our production which is unaccompanied by a certificate of genuineness, bearing the number of the watch, and signed by our Treasurer, R. E. Robbins, or by our predecessors, Appleton, Tracy & Co.

As these watches are for sale by jewelers generally throughout the Union, the American Watch Company do not solicit orders for single watches.

THE BATTLE OF FORT MOULTRIE.

The confidence of Sir Peter Parker in an easy victory was unshaken. To make all sure, he exercised a body of marines in the art of entering forts through embrasures; intending first to silence Moultrie's battery, then to land his trained detachment, and by their aid enter the fort. His presumption was justified by the judgment of Lee. That general, coming down to the island, took Moultrie aside and said: "Do you think you can maintain this post?" Moultrie answered. "Yes, I think I can." But Lee had no faith in the spirited defence, fretted at the too easy disposition of Moultrie, and wished, up to the last moment to remove him from command.

On the twenty-third an unfavorable wind prevented the joint attack. On the twenty-fifth the squadron was increased by the arrival of the Experiment, a ship of sixty guns, which passed the bar on the twenty-sixth. Letters of encouragement came also from Tonyn, then Governor of East Florida, who was impatient for the attack on Georgia; he would have had a body of Indians raised on the back of South Carolina; and a body of royalists to "terrify and distract, so that the assault at Charleston would have struck an astonishing terror and affright." He reported South Carolina to be in a "mutinous state that delighted him; the men would certainly rise on their officers; the battery on Sullivan's Island would not discharge two rounds." This opinion was spread through the fleet, and became the belief of every sailor on board With or without Clinton's aid, the Commodore was pursuaded that with his trained seamen and marines, he could take and keep possession of the fort, till Clinton should "send as many troops as he might think proper, and who might enter the fort in the same way."

Captain Lamperer walking with Moultrie on the platform, and looking at the British ships-of-war, all of which had already come over the bar, addressed him: "Well, Colonel, what do you think of it now?" "We shall beat them," said Moultrie "The men-of-war," rejoined the captain, "will knock your fort down in half-an-hour." "Then," said Moultrie, "we will lie behind the ruins and prevent their men from landing."

On the morning of the 28th, a gentle sea-breeze prognosticated the attack. Lee, from Charleston for the tenth or eleventh time, charged Moultrie to finish the bridge for his retreat, promised him re-enforcements, which were never sent, and still meditated removing him from his command; while Moultrie, whose faculties, under the outward show of imperturable and even indolent calm, were strained to their utmost tension, rode to visit his advancing guard on the east. Here the commander, William Thompson, of Orangeburgh, of Irish descent, a native of Pennsylvania, but from childhood a citizen of South Carolina, a man of rare worth in private life, brave and intelligent as an officer, had, at the extreme point, posted fifty of the militia behind sand-hills and myrtle bushes. A few hundred yards in the rear he guarded breastworks that had been thrown up, with three hundred riflemen of his own regiment from Orangeburg and its neighborhood, with two hundred of Clarke's North Carolina regiment, two hundred more of the men of South Carolina under Horry; and the raccoon company of riflemen. On his left he was protected by a morass; on his right by one eighteen pounder and one brass six pounder, which overlooked the spot where Clinton would wish to land.

Seeing the enemy's boats already in motion on the beach of Long Island, and the men of war loosing their topsails, Moultrie hurried back to his fort at full speed. He ordered the roll to beat, and officers and men to their posts. His whole number, including himself and officers, was four hundured and thirty five; of whom twenty-two were of the fourth regiment of artillery, the rest of his own regiment; men who were bound to each other, to their officers, and to him, by personal affection and confidence.—Next to him in command was Isaac Motte: the Major of his regiment was the fearless and faultless Francis Marion. The fort was a square, with a bastion at each angle; built of palmetto logs, dove-tailed and bolted together, and laid in parallel rows sixteen feet asunder; between these rows the space was filled with sand. On the eastern and northern sides the palmetto was only seven feet high, but it was surrounded by thick plank, so as to be tenable against a scaling party; a traverse of sand extended from east to west. The southern and western curtains were finished with their platforms on which the cannon were mounted. The standard which was advanced to the south-east bastion, displayed a flag of blue with a crescent, on which was emblazoned Liberty. The whole number of cannon in the fort, the bastions, and two cavaliers, was but thirty-one, of which no more than twenty-one could at the same time be brought into use; of ammunition there was but twenty-eight rounds for twenty-six cannons. At Haddrell's Point across the bay, Armstrong had about fifteen hundred men. The first regular South Carolina regiment, Christopher Gadsden, occupied Fort Johnson, which stood on the most northerly part of James Island, about three miles from Charleston, and within point-blank shot of the channel. Charleston was guarded by more than two thousand men.

Half an hour after nine in the morning, the commodore gave a signal to Clinton that he should go on with the attack. An hour later and the ships of-war were under weigh Gadsden, Cotesworth, Pinckney and the rest at Fort Johnson watched all their movements; in Charleston the wharves and water-side along the bay were crowded with troops and lookers on. The men of Carolina must foil their adversary, or their city may perish; their houses be sacked and burned, and the savages on the frontier start from their lurking places. No grievous oppressions weighed down the industry of South Carolina; she came forth to the struggle from generous sympathy, and now the battle is to be fought for her chief city and the province.

The Thunderboom, covered by the Friendship, began the action by throwing shells, which it continued till more than sixty were discharged; of these some burst in the air; one lighted on the magazine without doing injury, the rest sunk in the morass, or were buried in the sand within the fort. At about a quarter to eleven, the Active, of twenty-eight guns, disregarding four or five shots fired at her while under sail; the Bristol, with fifty guns, having on board Sir Peter Parker and Lord William Campbell, the Governor; the Experiment, also of fifty guns, and the Solebay, of twenty-eight, brought up within about three hundred and fifty yards of the fort, let go their anchors with springs upon their cables, and began a most furious cannonade. Every sailor expected that two broadsides would end the strife; but the soft, fibrous, spungy wood of the palmetto withstood the rapid fire, and neither split nor splintered, nor started, and the parapet was high enough to protect the men on the platforms. When broadsides from three or four of the men-of-war struck the logs at the same instant, the shock gave the merlons a tremor, but the pile remained uninjured. Moultrie had but one-tenth as many guns as were brought to bear on him, and was moreover obliged to stint the use of powder. His guns accordingly were fired very slowly, the officers taking aim, and waiting always for the smoke to clear away, that they might point with more precision. "Mind the commodore, mind the fifty-gun ships," were the words that passed along the platform from officers and men.

"Shall I send for more powder?" asked Moultrie of Motte.

"To be sure," said Motte.

Moultrie wrote to Lee. "I believe we shall want more powder. At the rate we go on, I think we shall; but you can see that. Pray send us more, if you think proper."

More vessels were seen coming up, and cannon were heard from the north-east.—Clinton had promised support; not knowing what else to do, he directed the batteries on Long Island to open a cannonade; and several shells were thrown into Thomson's intrenchments, doing no other damage than wounding one soldier. The fire was returned by Thomson with his one eighteen pounder; but from the distance, with little effect.

At twelve o'clock the light infantry, grenadiers, and the fifteenth regiments embarked in boats, while floating batteries and armed craft got under weigh to cover the landing; but the troops never so much as once attempted to land. The detachment had hardly left Long Island before it was ordered to disembark, for it was seen that "the landing was impracticable, and would have been the destruction of many brave men without the least probability of success." The American defences are so well constructed, the approach so difficult, Thompson so vigilant, his men such skillful sharpshooters, that had the British landed, they would have been cut to pieces. "It was impossible," says Clinton, "to decide positively upon any plan;" and he did nothing.

An attack on Haddrell's Point would have been still more desperate; though the Commodore, at Clinton's request, sent three frigates to co-operate with him in that design. The people of Charleston, as they looked from the battery with senses quickened by the nearness of danger, beheld the Sphinx, the Acteon, and the Syren, each of twenty-eight guns, sailing as if to get between Haddrell's Point and the fort, so as to enfilade the works, and when the rebels should be driven from them, to cut off their retreat.—It was a moment of danger, for the fort on that side was unfinished. But the pilots kept too far to the south, so that they run all three upon a bank of sand, known as the Lower Middle Ground. Gladdened by seeing the frigates thus entangled, the people at Charleston were swayed alternately by fears and hopes; the armed inhabitants stood every one at his post, uncertain but that they might be called to immediate action, hardly daring to believe that Moultrie's small and ill furnished garrison could beat off the squadron, when behold! his flag disappears from their eyes. Fearing that his colors had been struck, they prepared to meet the invaders at the water's edge, trusting in Providence, and preferring death to slavery. In the fort, William Jasper, a sergeant perceived that the flag had been cut down by a ball from the enemy, and had fallen over the ramparts. "Colonel," said he to Moultrie, "don't let us fight without a flag."

"What can you do?" asked Moultrie; "the staff is broken off."

"Then," said Jasper, "I'll fix it on a halberd, and place it on the merlon of a bastion next the enemy;" and leaping through an embrasure, and braving the thickest fire of the enemy, he took up the flag, returned with it safely and planted it, as he had promised, on the summit of the merlon.

CONSUMERS OF RICHARDSON'S LINENS, and those desirous of obtaining the GENUINE GOODS, should see that the articles they purchase are sealed with the full name of the firm, as a guarantee of the soundness and durability of the Goods.

This caution is rendered essentially necessary, as large quantities of inferior and defective Linens are prepared, season after season and sealed with the name of RICHARDSON, by Irish Houses, who, regardless of the injury thus inflicted alike on the American consumer and the manufacturers of the genuine Goods, will not readily abandon a business so profitable while purchasers can be imposed on with Goods of a worthless character.

THE ATTENTION OF THE YOUNG men of Wisconsin in particular, and of the Western and North-western States generally, is respectfully called to the advantages which this Institution offers for the acquisition of a knowledge of

BOOK-KEEPING

And commercial pursuits generally. It is now in a flourishing condition, and is working under a CHARTER OF INCORPORATION. The rooms are large and commodious, and are fitted up in splendid style. On introducing the subject to the student, he is led carefully, step by step, through the fundamental and general features of the science: and when these are fully realized, he is required to embark into a career of general speculation and merchandising, training and adjusting contracts, purchases, sales, &c., &c.; making the necessary entries in the principal and auxiliary books, in precisely the same manner and order as they are made by the skillful Book-Keeper, in the counting-room of actual business.

Thus when the work is completed, the student finds himself, not a mere theoretical, but a practical accountant, being fully conversant with every branch of this interesting and important science, as applied to General Mercantile, Wholesale, Retail, Commission, Importing, Exporting, Foreign and Domestic Shipping, Stocks, Exchange, Banking, Manufacturing, Mining, Steamboating, Railroading and business of Compound or Company speculation, in each of which, he has met with adverse as well as prosperous operation.

The Ladies' Department is entirely separate and tastefully furnished.

Medical.

THE GREATEST
DISCOVERY OF THE AGE.

MR. KENNEDY, OF ROXBURY, HAS discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures

EVERY KIND OF HUMOR.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two or three bottles will clear the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the stomach.

Three or five bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of Erysipelas.

One or two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of ringworm.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate cases of rheumatism.

Three or four bottles are warranted to cure salt-rheum.

Five or eight bottles will cure the worst cases of scrofula.

One or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst cases of dyspepsia. I know from the experience of thousands that it has been caused by a canker in the stomach.

One or two bottles are warranted to cure sick headache.

One or two bottles are warranted to regulate a costive state of the bowels.

One or two bottles will regulate all derangement of the kidneys.

Four to six bottles has cured the worst cases of dropsy.

By strictly following the directions in the pamphlet around each bottle, and a judicious application of the

SALT RHEUM OINTMENT,
SCROFULA OINTMENT and HEALING OINTMENT,

every sore and ulcer, of whatever kind or nature, except cancer, that has taken root, is perfectly and permanently cured.

ROXBURY, Mass.

DEAR MADAM:—The reputation of the Medical Discovery, in curing all kinds of humors, is so well established, by the unanimous voice of all who have ever used it, that I need not say anything on the subject, as the most skillful physicians and the most careful druggists in the country are unanimous in its praise.

In presenting the Medical Discovery to your notice, I do it with a full knowledge of its curative powers, in relieving all, and curing most of the diseases to which you are unfortunately so liable. That most excruciating disease to an affectionate mother is cured as if by a miracle: your own temper is restored to its natural sweetness, and your babe from short and fretful naps to calm and sweet slumbers; and the Medical Discovery becomes a fountain of blessings to your husband and household.

In the more advanced stages of

Canker

it extends to the stomach, ensuing

Dyspepsia

which is nothing but canker on the stomach; then on the intestines and creating a sinking, gone feeling, and an indifference even to the cares of your family.

Kidneys

Your stomach is

Raw and Inflamed,

your food distresses you, and you can only take certain kinds, and even of that your system does not get half the nourishment it contains, as the acrimonious fluid of the canker eats it up; then your complexion loses its bloom and becomes sallow or greenish, and your best day is gone. For want of nourishment your system becomes loose and flabby, and the fibres of your body become relaxed. Then follows a train of diseases which the Medical Discovery is peculiarly adapted to

Cure;

Palpitation of the heart, pain in the side, weakness of the spine and small of the back, pain of the hip joint when you retire, irregularity of the bowels, and also that most excruciating of diseases the Piles.

How many thousands of poor women are suffering from this disease and pining away a miserable life, and their next door neighbor does not know the cause. I wish to impress on your mind that good old proverb, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." In the

MEDICAL DISCOVERY

you have both the preventative and the cure, with this great and good quality, that it will never, under any circumstances, do you an injury.

Yours truly, DONALD KENNEDY.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Influenza, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Incipient Consumption,

AND FOR THE RELIEF OF CONSUMPTIVE patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town and almost every hamlet of the United States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities anywhere which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil, to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford to those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC

are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in and Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Medical.

MOFFAT'S
Life Pills and Phoenix Bitters!

THESE MEDICINES HAVE NOW been before the public for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and during that time have maintained a high character in almost every part of the Globe, for their extraordinary and immediate power of restoring perfect health to persons suffering under nearly every kind of disease to which the human frame is liable.

The following are among the distressing variety of human diseases in which the

VEGETABLE LIFE MEDICINES

Are well known to be infallible.

DYSPEPSIA, by thoroughly cleansing the first and second stomachs, and creating a flow of pure, healthy bile, instead of the stale and acrid kind; FLATULENCY, Loss of Appetite, Heartburn, Headache, Restlessness, Ill-Temper, Anxiety, Languor, and Melancholy, which are the general symptoms of Dyspepsia, will vanish, as a natural consequence of its cure.

COSTIVENESS, by cleansing the whole length of the intestines with a solvent process, and without violence; all violent purges leave the bowels costive within two days.

FEVERS of all kinds, by restoring the blood to a regular circulation, through the process of respiration in such cases, and the thorough solution of all intestinal obstruction in others.

The Life Medicines have been known to cure RHEUMATISM permanently in three weeks, and GOUT in half that time, by removing local inflammation from the muscles and ligaments of the joints.

DROPSIES of all kinds, by freeing and strengthening the kidneys and bladder: they operate most delightfully on these important organs, and hence have ever been found a certain remedy for the worst cases of GRAVEL.

Also WORMS, by dislodging from the turnings of the bowels the slimy matter to which these creatures adhere.

SCURVY, ULCERS and INVETERATE SORES, by the perfect purity which these LIFE MEDICINES give to the blood, and all the humors.

SCORBUTIC ERUPTIONS and BAD COMPLEXIONS by their alterative effect upon the fluids that feed the skin, and the morbid state which occasions all eruptive complaints, sallow, cloudy, and other disagreeable complexions.

The use of these Pills for a very short time will effect an entire cure of SALT RHEUM, and a striking improvement in the clearness of the skin. COMMON COLDS and INFLUENZA will always be cured by one dose, or by two in the worst cases.

PILES.—The original proprietor of these Medicines, was cured of Piles, of 35 years standing by the use of the LIFE MEDICINES alone.

FEVER AND AGUE.—For this scourge of the western country, these Medicines will be found a safe, speedy, and certain remedy. Other medicines leave the system subject to a return of the disease—a cure of these Medicines is permanent—TRY THEM, BE SATISFIED AND BE CURED.

BILIOUS FEVERS AND LIVER COMPLAINTS.—General Debility, Loss of Appetite, and Diseases of Females—the Medicines have been used with the most beneficial results in cases of this description: King's Evil and Scrofula, in its worst forms, yields to the mild yet powerful action of these remarkable medicines. Night Sweats, Nervous Debility, Nervous Complaints of all kinds, Palpitation of the Heart, Painters's Colic, are speedily cured.

MERCURIAL DISEASES.—Persons whose constitutions have become impaired by the injudicious use of Mercury, will find these Medicines a perfect cure, as they never fail to eradicate from the system all the effects of Mercury, infinitely sooner than the most powerful preparations of Sarsaparilla.

It is not too Much to Say
SINCE ALL,
OLD AND YOUNG
Affirm its Truth,

VIZ: THAT PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE will preserve infallibly the growth and color of the hair, if used two or three times a week, to any imaginable age. Perfectly restore the gray, cover the bald with nature's own ornament, the hair; make it more soft and beautiful than any oil, and preserve the scalp free from all disease to the greatest age. Statesmen Judges, Attorneys, Doctors, Clergymen, Professional men, and Gentlemen and Ladies of all classes, all over the world, bear testimony that we do not say too much in its favor. Read the following, and judge:

HICKORY GROVE, St. Charles Co., Mo.,
November 19, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Hair Restorative; we did so with little hope of success, but to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can, therefore, and do hereby recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are

Yours respectfully,
GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
ARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: My hair had, for several years, been becoming prematurely gray, accompanied by a harshness which rendered the constant application of oil necessary in dressing it. When I commenced using your Hair Restorative about two months ago it was in that condition; and having continued its use till within the last three weeks, it has been turned to its natural color, and assumed a softness and lustre greatly to be preferred to those produced by the application of oils or any other preparation I have ever used. I regard it as an indispensable article for every lady's toilet, whether to be used as a Hair Restorative or for the simple purpose of dressing or beautifying the hair. You have permission to refer to me all who entertain any doubt of its performing all that is claimed for it.

MRS. C. S. SYMONDS,
Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 10, 1857. 114 Third st.

WELLINGTON, Mo., Dec. 5, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: By the advice of a friend of mine, who had been using your Restorative, I was induced to try it. I had the fever, some time last May, and nearly every hair in my head came out. Now my hair has come in a great deal thicker than ever it was. Nothing but a duty and sympathy that I feel to communicate to others who are afflicted as I have been, would induce me to give this public acknowledgment of the benefit I have received from Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative.

Yours respectfully,
A. R. JACOBS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: Large, medium, and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

BŒRHAVE'S
Holland Bitters
FOR DYSPEPSIA,
Liver Complaint, Fever and Ague, &c.

THE successful introduction and use of this celebrated Remedy has been the signal for a literal flood of compounds called "Bitters," offered in various forms, from a quart bottle to a five-gallon keg, until this word "Bitters" is but another name for "grog," or some villainous whiskey mixture.

But the really great relief derived from the minute dose, one teaspoonful, of our medicine, and the entire absence of after prostration, has established for it a reputation which the host of imitations and counterfeits have failed to undermine. It is positively a vegetable preparation, with barely sufficient pure spirits to preserve it.

But one size of the genuine, (Half-Pint Bottles,) price ONE DOLLAR.

It is a medicine of long-tried efficacy for Purifying the Blood, so essential for the foundation of good health and for correcting disorders of the stomach and bowels.

Two or three doses will convince the afflicted of its salutary effects. The stomach will speedily regain its strength, a healthy action of the liver, bowels and kidneys will soon take place, and renewed health be the quick result.

For INDIGESTION, Try
Bœrhave's Holland Bitters.
For HEARTBURN, Try
Bœrhave's Holland Bitters.
For ACIDITY, Try

For WATERBRASH, Try

For COSTIVENESS, Try

For PILES, Try

In all Nervous, Rheumatic, and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

Read Carefully!

The genuine, highly-concentrated BŒRHAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS is put up in half-pint bottles only, and retailed at One Dollar per bottle. The great demand for this truly celebrated medicine has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing.

Beware of imposition! See that our name is on the label of every bottle you buy.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 14.

A special dispatch from Mound City, (Kansas,) dated the 8th, to the Democrat, says all is quiet there. No arrests made. Montgomery, Jennison, Seaman and others are not to be found.

Gen. Harney has ordered two companies of infantry under Major Wessett and Capt. Lyon to be stationed at Mound City; two companies of dragoons under Capt. Steele at Fort Scott.

Gen. Harney wished to proclaim martial law, but Gov. Medary would not consent, preferring that the United States Marshal should make arrests, and prisoners be tried by Territorial law.

A special dispatch from Independence to the Republican says that Adson, (who was wounded,) and Bell, who escaped from Walker's, were found yesterday secreted in the woods. They were surrounded and ordered to surrender. After conferring together, they drew their pistols and replied that they would die first. They were immediately rushed upon and killed.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Union Meeting in New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15—9 P. M.

A meeting of prominent merchants and politicians of the city and State was held at noon to day, at the office of Richard Lathers on Pine street, to consult as to the best means to be adopted to avert the danger now threatening the Union, and to assure to the South sufficient protection to their constitutional rights within the Union.

The meeting was called by a circular addressed to leading citizens, without distinction of politics, and was well attended.—Among those present were Ex-President Van Buren, Ex-Congressman Israel D Hatch of Buffalo, Washington Hunt, Watts Sherman, Erastus Brooks, Jas. T. Brady, Edwin Crosswell, Wilson G. Hunt, C. Comstock, of the Albany Atlas and Argus, Girard Hallett, Jas. W. Beekman, Fernando Wood, Augustus Schell, Richard Lathers, and many other gents of prominent position as merchants and public men. The condition of the Union was freely discussed, and several suggestions made, one of which was that Millard Fillmore be requested to proceed to South Carolina, as Commissioner from the State of New York, to exhort temperate action and delay on the part of the former State.

It was understood that Mr. F. would accept the duty if desired, but he expressed the belief that the mission would be unsuccessful unless he could bear with him some authorized pledge of conservative policy, from the party about to assume the control of the general government.

No definite action has yet been determined on by the meeting.

Charles O'Conner presided at the Union meeting, and speeches were made by John A. Dix, John McKeon and others. Mr. McKeon expressed the opinion that the Union was already dissolved, that it would be a peaceful separation until after the 4th of March, and that civil war will then ensue.

At the conclusion of Mr. McKeon's speech which was an earnest appeal for the correction of Northern public sentiment in regard to the slave States, Hon. D. S. Dickinson addressed the meeting. He prayed with Daniel Webster that when his eyes should turn to behold for the last time the sun in heaven, he might not see it shining on the broken and dishonored fragments of a once glorious Union. The public sentiment of the North must be changed. He had little faith in meetings. The South saw with just fear that in a little while the North will have two-thirds of the Senate and House. The repeal of laws will not satisfy the South.—They know that a stream cannot by any natural process be made to raise higher than the fountain.

The North must get rid of its pernicious sectional sentiment, a sentiment propagated by dangerous political and ministerial men. It was absurd to say that all this would blow over. He who says so is a demagogue or is mad. South Carolina on the 17th or 18th of this month will go out of the Union; the next of the Cotton States will follow, and in time every slave-holding state. This he regarded as certain as that the sun will rise. The North should repeal all its unfriendly laws, and in their place should set up a different public sentiment, as the brazen serpent was set up in Israel, that all who have been bitten by the poison serpent of abolitionism may look upon it and be healed. Mr. Dickinson was frequently greeted with applause during the delivery of his speech.

Hiram Ketchum spoke more hopefully, and believed that public sentiment at home might be reached and corrected; at least, he was for making the effort.

Letters were then read from a large number of distinguished gentlemen residing in different parts of the State, after which Hon. M. Fillmore, Hon. Greene C. Bronson, and Richard Lathers, Esq., were appointed committee to visit the South

Among the letters read were those of Millard Fillmore, Washington Hunt, Rev. Dr. Hawks, Judge Page, John A. Greene, and others.

From the Plains.

INDEPENDENCE, Dec. 15—9 P. M.

The New Mexican Mail, in charge of Conductor Coon, with dates to the 26th arrived last night.

Mr. Whitney, Post Master at Santa Fe, came through as passenger. He reported very dull times in New Mexico, also that the Indian troubles on the plains are assuming a very serious aspect.

At McNee's Creek the mail party was charged upon by 30 Camanche Indians, and it was only by decided and prompt action that they were not overtaken by them. The Indians were well armed with rifles. After detaining the mail about an hour they left the mail party and then retreated to a train seven miles behind them.

The outgoing mail was also forced to return to Pawnee Fork.

Mr. Whiting says that from the Cimoane to Pawnee Fork Indians were seen every day on the high ridges, and that there is no doubt but they will cut off all small parties traveling the road.

Since the raid on Mr. Walker a few days ago and the subsequent killing of the two men that escaped, the citizens of this county have organized themselves into patrol companies, and should any more such bands make their appearance they will be summarily dealt with.

What the Secessionists Demand.

AUGUSTA, Dec. 16—9 P. M.

It is understood that Senator Toombs is about leaving for Washington. He has just published a letter in reference to the 5th article of the Constitution. He says if the Constitution should be amended, the amendments should be such as neither could be evaded or resisted by the abolition States, and such as would give full and ample security to Southern rights. He adds, that if the Republican party will vote for those amendments, or even a majority in good faith in favor of them, they can easily be carried through Congress, and then he thinks it would be reasonable and fair to postpone final action by the Southern States until the Legislatures of the Northern States could be conveniently called together for definite action, or amendment in regard to the personal liberty bills. If the Northern States refuse to acquiesce in this, then he urges Georgia to secede at the latest by the 4th of March. The legislature will adjourn next week. Nothing of general interest is transpiring.

Matters at the South.

RICHMOND, VA., Dec. 15—9 P. M.

Many coincide with Hon. W. C. Rives, in his letter to Representative Boteler, that a firm and dignified demand for our constitutional rights would be considered by the North. A more general sentiment is that disunion cannot be avoided, and that Virginia must go with the South.

The snow here is quite deep, and no trains have arrived this evening.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 15—9 P. M.

The small pox is still raging here; there have been two new cases.

The Extradition Case Decided.

TORONTO, Dec. 15—9 P. M.

The court of Queen's Bench decision in the Extradition Case of the fugitive slave Jones, alias Anderson, was rendered this A. M. in favor of giving up the prisoner to the U. S. authorities. One of the Judges dissenting, an appeal has been made. The prisoner is strongly guarded. No attempt at rescue was made but much excitement prevails.

Fire at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Dec. 15—9 P. M.

The Calhoun Block was burned last night. Loss $100,000. Insured $30,000.

Gen. Pickens Elected Governor of South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, Dec. 15—9 P. M.

The South Carolina Legislature elected Wm Pickens Governor on the seventh ballot to-day. The vote was as follows: Pickens 82; Johnson 64; Scattering 12.

Washington Matters.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—9 P. M.

It is understood that the sloop of war, Brooklyn, is to be prepared for sea at once, and held ready to proceed to Charleston to aid in the defence of the Government Forts at a moment's warning. The order has created quite a stir among the naval men.

New York Matters.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15—9 P. M.

The steamship Vigo from Liverpool arrived. News anticipated.

The Saxonia and City of Washington sailed to-day for Europe, the former with $460,000 in specie.

MONETARY.

SATURDAY P. M., Dec. 15th, 1860.

The week closes without any material change in our money market. A very decided improvement in financial affairs has taken place at New York, and this has to some extent removed the despondency prevailing a week ago, but still a general stringency pervades the money markets of the West, and in fact business of all kinds is at a dead stand. Exchange is difficult to be obtained at any price; 5 ℔ cent. prem. is the nominal rate, and selling only to customers at that. The improvement at New York is chiefly due to the favorable monetary news from England, our 'panic' not proving as contagious as had been feared, and also the commencement of a liberal specie movement from Europe to this country in return for our exports of produce. Should the late advices from England be confirmed by the next arrival, it will go far towards restoring our monetary system to a healthy condition; but until the political troubles that disturb the country are definitely adjusted, we cannot look for a complete restoration of confidence, or a return of that commercial prosperity which recently seemed so surely dawning upon the West.

The arrivals of produce and pork continue comparatively trifling, the farmers being loth to part with their wheat or hogs at present prices, and for currency, which is only available within the limits of our own State, and not exempt, in certain contingencies, from depreciation there. Our banks are now taking Illinois currency at 2 ℔ cent discount, and it generally passes from hand to hand at par. Gold nominal, ly worth about the same as Exchange.

MONEY MATTERS AT CHICAGO.

The Tribune, of Saturday morning, says:

Nothing has occurred in financial matters to-day to vary the stereotyped dullness that has prevailed for the past week. The banks confine their transactions to receiving deposits, paying checks, buying what little straggling exchange makes its appearance, and distributing it among their customers. A good piece of business paper for discount would be regarded with almost wonder. In the meantime currency is accumulating, and with present prospects the surplus is not soon likely to find employment. Our city bankers are carrying an immense amount of it, and are, of course, losing the interest on it, while the holders of it expect to receive on the first of January, or as soon as their bonds go up to old figures, their interest at 7 @8 per cent on their investment, while the people are paying 10 per cent premium for Exchange. Let our banking law be so amended that a few sharpers cannot make a very handsome income on what they owe the public.

Exchange to-day has been quiet at former quotations. Buying 9@9¼; selling 10 per cent premium. Customers, only, are supplied. Outsiders have to pay ½@1 per cent, above current rates to customers.

The European news, published this morning, was decidedly favorable. It produced, however, no effect upon our money market here beyond inspiring a more cheerful feeling in financial circles and better hopes for the future. There is, so far as the news would indicate, no panic in England in regard to American securities, and no danger that considerable quantities will be sent home for sale.

The general money market is easy; probably it was never so in the history of the city. First class paper could be placed at 10 per cent outside the banks, and 10@15 per cent is about the range for any that would pass at all. There is scarcely any first class paper offering.

COMMERCIAL.

SATURDAY P. M., Dec. 15, 1860.

The wheat market to-day was at a stand; buyers offered 70@72c for No. 2 and No. 1 spring in store, but up to the close of 'Change no sales of any consequence were made. The general disposition is to hold, and sellers are encouraged in pursuing this course by the continued lightness of receipts. No transactions in flour were reported. A limited amount might be sold at $3,75@4,00 for good to choice country Extra. Coarse grains are unchanged. There is a moderate local demand for corn at 32c, and some enquiry for oats, both for home consumption, and to store at 20c.

Dressed hogs were firm and in fair demand at $5@5,50 ℔ cwt for light to extra heavy. The receipts for the week are only 1,175 head, against 3,168 in the corresponding week last year.

The receipts of flour and grain for the past week, exclusive of deliveries by team, have been from the following sources:

Reducing flour to bushels, we have an aggregate of 10,000,960 bushels of grain received thus far this year. The local deliveries will increase this amount to about eleven millions of bushels.

Two or three of our subscribers have called upon us to find the prices of lumber in Milwaukee, and altho' we have referred to the commercial columns of all our Milwaukee exchanges and found every other article of trade mentioned; we look in vain for lumber Perhaps there is none in Milwaukee?—Madison Patriot.

Our Madison friend will find the prices of lumber in the present issue of the SENTINEL, and will find them quoted regularly once a week. It is not customary to publish the prices of lumber oftener, because, unlike most other articles quoted in our market reports, it does not usually fluctuate in value from day to day; and whenever a change does take place during the intervening period, we generally make it a point to inform our readers of the fact.

MARINE NEWS.

THE LATE STORM—COULD THE DISASTER HAVE BEEN AVOIDED?

The New York Commercial Advertiser has an interesting article on the late storm, discussing the question whether the disasters consequent upon it could have been avoided. It says the conclusion appears to be that the centre of the storm, i. e, the part where most rain or snow fell, and toward which the wind blew from every point was between New York and Buffalo, probably in the regions of the mountains; that it moved towards the North-east, and in the course became more severe and destructive, and that this motion drew after it the regular North-west blast so that it was felt in the East as if proceeding from the South-west. But it was the old, original, dry, cold, unrelenting North-wester, nevertheless; only altering its course somewhat to fill up the vacuum made at the nucleus of the storm, in its passage along a line nearly parallel with that of the sea coast. For nearly two weeks previously we had been favored with mild weather, during which time the atmosphere was filled with moisture from the ocean, inviting, at this season of the year, a violent collision. Every day's delay would probably make it only the more destructive.—All that was required, then, on Friday morning, was the receipt of telegraph despatches at the great lakes and elsewhere, stating the character and direction of the wind currents, at points from one to two thousand miles apart. We believe it will be found that the storm raged on Lakes Superior, Michigan and Huron, many hours before it was felt at Buffalo. It will probably be found, too, that the telegraph could have been employed to give warning as far West as Detroit, if not Milwaukee, of the approaching visitor; and all that was wanted was some person sufficiently familiar with the philosophy of the winds to calculate when and where the storm would make its appearance.

RIVER NEWS.

ANNUAL STATEMENT OF STEAMBOAT ARRIVALS AT THE PORT OF ST. PAUL FOR 1860.

The season of steamboat navigation on the Upper Mississippi closed Nov. 23, the War Eagle being the last to leave our levee. The steamer Milwaukee was the first to arrive on the opening of navigation thro' the lake, March 25th. The river from St. Paul to the lake was open for boats on the 15th of March, when the Frank Steele made her first trip to Red Wing.—According to custom, however, we date the opening of navigation only from the time when the boats arrive from below the lake, which gives us this year 240 days of open river, which exceeds that of any year since 1849 when there were 242 days of navigation.—The total number of arrivals for 1860 is 776. The average length of the navigable season in sixteen years is shown to be 229 days. The earliest arrival, approximately dating the opening of navigation, was on March 25th, 1860, the latest, May 1st, 1857, the averaging date of opening being April 10th. The earliest closing of navigation was Nov. 10th, 1856, the latest, Dec. 7th, 1849; the average date of closing being Nov. 26th, The longest navigable season on record was in 1859—198 days. The longest in 1849—245 days.

We give below a table showing the length of the navigable season since 1844, and the number of arrivals:

THE AMALGAMATION OF LANGUAGES.—There is a growing tendency in this age to appropriate the most expressive words of other languages, and after a while to incorporate them into our own; thus the word Cephalic, which is from the Greek, signifying "for the head," is now becoming popularized in connection with Mr. Spalding's great Headache remedy, but it will soon be used in a more general way, and the word Cephalic will become as common as Electrotype and many others whose distinction as foreign words has been worn away by common usage until they seem "native and to the manor born."

'ardly Realized.

Hi 'ad 'n 'orrible 'eadache this hafternoon, hand I stepped into the hapothecaries hand says hi to the man "Can you hease me of an 'eadache?" "Does it hache 'ard," says 'e. "Hexceedingly," says hi, hand upon that 'e gave me a Cephalic Pill, hand 'pon me 'onor it cured me so quick that I 'ardly realized I 'ad 'ad an 'eadache.

☞ HEADACHE is the favorite sign by which nature makes know any deviation whatever from the natural state of the brain, and viewed in this light it may be looked upon as a safeguard intended to give notice of disease which might otherwise escape attention, till too late to be remedied; and its indications should never be neglected. Headaches may be classified under two names, viz: Symptomatic and Idiopathic. Symptomatic Headache is exceedingly common and is the precursor of a great variety of diseases, among which are Apoplexy, Gout, Rheumatism and all febrile diseases. In its nervous form it is sympathetic of disease of the stomach constituting sick headache, of hepatic disease constituting bilious headache, of worms, constipation and other disorders of the bowels, as well as renal and uterine affections. Diseases of the heart are very frequently attended with Headaches; Anaemia and plethora are also affections which frequently occasion headache. Idiopathic Headache is also very common, being usually distinguished by the name of nervous headache, sometimes coming on suddenly in a state of apparently sound health and prostrating at once the mental and physical energies, and in other instances it comes on slowly, heralded by depression of spirits or acerbity of temper. In most instances the pain is in the front of the head, over one or both eyes, and sometimes provoking vomiting; under this class may also be named Neuralgia.

For the treatment of either class of Headache the Cephalic Pills have been found a sure and safe remedy, relieving the most acute pains in a few minutes, and by its subtle power eradicating the diseases of which Headache is the unerring index.

BRIDGET.—Missus wants you to send her a box of Cephalic Glue, no, a bottle of Prepared Pills,—but I'm thinking that's not just it nather; but perhaps ye'll be after knowing what it is. Ye see she's nigh dead and gone with the Sick Headache, and wants some more of that same as relaived her before

Druggist—You must mean Spalding's Cephalic Pills

Bridget—Och! sure now and you've sed it, here's the quarther and giv me the Pills and don't be all day about it aither.

Constipation or Costiveness.

No one of the "many ills flesh is heir to" is so prevalent, so little understood, and so much neglected as Costiveness. Often originating in carelessness, or sedentary habits; it is regarded as a slight disorder of too little consequence to excite anxiety, while in reality it is the precursor and companion of many of the most fatal and dangerous diseases, and unless early eradicated it will bring the sufferer to an untimely grave. Among the lighter evils of which costiveness is the usual attendant are Headache, Colic, Rheumatism, Foul Breath, Piles and others of like nature, with a long train of frightful diseases, such as Malignant Fevers, Abcesses, Dysentary, Diarrhoea, Dyspepsia, Apoplexy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Hysteria, Hypochondriasis, Melancholy and Insanity, first indicate their presence in the system by this alarming symptom. Not unfrequently the diseases named originate in Constipation, but take on an independent existence unless the cause is eradicated in an early stage. From all these considerations it follows that the disorder should receive immediate attention whenever it occurs, and no person should neglect to get a box of Cephalic Pills on the first appearance of the complaint, as their timely use will expel the insiduous approaches of disease and destroy this dangerous foe to human life.

A Real Blessing.

Physician,—Well, Mrs. Jones, how is that headache?

Mrs. Jones—Gone! Doctor, all gone! the pill you sent cured me in just twenty minutes, and I wish you would send more so that I can have them handy.

Physician—You can get them at any Druggist's. Call for Cephalic Pills, I find they never fail, and I recommend them in all cases of Headache.

Mrs. Jones—I shall send for a box directly, and shall tell all my suffering friends, for they are a real blessing.

TWENTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS SAVED.—Mr. Spalding has sold two millions of bottles of his celebrated Prepared Glue, and it is estimated that each bottle saves at least ten dollars worth of broken furniture, thus making an aggregate of twenty millions of dollars reclaimed from total loss by this valuable invention. Having made his Glue a household word, he now proposes to do the world still greater service by curing all the aching heads with his Cephalic Pills, and if they are as good as his Glue, Headaches will soon vanish away like snow in July.

OVER EXCITEMENT, and the mental care and anxiety incident to close attention to business or study are among the numerous causes of Nervous Headache. The disordered state of mind and body incident to this distressing complaint is a fatal blow to all energy and ambition. Sufferers of this disorder can always obtain speedy relief from these distressing attacks by using one of the Cephalic Pills whenever the symptoms appear. It quiets the overtasked brain, soothes the strained and jarring nerves, and relaxes the tension of the stomach which always accompanies and aggravates the disordered condition of the brain.

FACT WORTH KNOWING.—Spalding's Cephalic Pills are a certain cure for Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Nervous Headache, Costiveness and General Debility.

GREAT DISCOVERY.—Among the most important of all the great medical discoveries of this age may be considered the system of vaccination for protection from Small Pox, the Cephalic Pill for relief of Headache, and the use of Quinine for the prevention of Fevers, either of which is a pure specific, whose benefits will be experienced by suffering humanity long after their discoverers are forgotten.

DID you ever have the Sick Headache? Do you remember the throbbing temples, the fevered brow, the loathing and disgust at the sight of food. How totally unfit you were for pleasure, conversation or study. One of the Cephalic Pills would have relieved you from all the suffering which you then experienced. For this and other purposes you should always have a box of them on hand to use as occasion requires.

CURE
All kinds of Headache.

By the use of these Pills the periodic attacks of Nervous or Sick Headache may be prevented; and if taken at the commencement of an attack immediate relief from pain and sickness will be obtained.

They seldom fail in removing the Nausea and Headache to which females are so subject.

They act gently upon the bowels,—removing Costiveness.

For Literary Men, Students, Delicate Females, and all persons of sedentary habits, they are valuable as a Laxative, improving the appetite, giving tone and vigor to the digestive organs, and restoring the natural elasticity and strength of the whole system.

The CEPHALIC PILLS are the result of long investigation and carefully conducted experiments, having been in use many years, during which time they have prevented and relieved a vast amount of pain and suffering from Headache, whether originating in the nervous system or from a deranged state of the stomach.

They are entirely vegetable in their composition, and may be taken at all times with perfect safety without making any change of diet, and the absence of any disagreeable taste renders it easy to administer them to children.
